

You are invited to a virtual CMU Portable weekend:

Science, Faith, and a Christian Response to Climate Change

Rachel Krause
Assistant Professor of Biology
Canadian Mennonite University

March 6-7, 2021

Zion Mennonite Church
78 – 6th Avenue NE
Swift Current, SK

(<https://zoom.us/j/92991749653>)

Overview:

Even in the midst of the COVID-19 pandemic, climate change continues to be a pressing issue, interconnected with issues of food security, economics, and public health that have come to the forefront with the pandemic. In this Portable, we will together unpack some of the confusion around the study of climate change, discuss what “science” and the “scientific method” have to offer, and decode the language used by scientists to communicate about climate change. Finally, we will discuss what a faithful Christian response to climate change might look like.

Session 1 – Friday evening (7:00 – 9:00)

Session 2 – Saturday morning (10:30 - 12:30)

Sunday sermon – Sunday (10:45-11:45)